in the CONDUCT of FLEXIBLE LEARNING

ACTS Flexible Learning Program (@FLP) uses digital education and modular approach in delivering education which is powered by the school's own Virtual Learning Environment, the ACTS-VLE, with the aid of video conferencing tools and partnership to local government units.

Learning Modalities

1. Digital Education

It requires no physical learning space interaction that uses digital learning platform, which requires internet or wired connectivity in facilitating the teaching-learning process. The professor/instructor serves as facilitator that engages learners into active participation. This allows for a 1.5 hours synchronous session per subject per week and 1.5 hours asynchronous access and self-study course packs due each week or as determined by the professor/instructor to be uploaded/submitted through the ACTS -VLE. It is an interactive educational platform, and personal organizer designed for ACTS students. The ACTS-VLE offers functionalities to monitor students' progress such as attendance, participation on discussions, submission of assigned tasks/activities, taking of quizzes, tests and other assessment and evaluation. Courses with required laboratory hours are to be conducted in face-to-face set -up at ACTS Computer College.

2. Modular approach

It involves individualized instruction that allows students to use course packs in digital format which can be accessed through the ACTS-VLE.
